HUMANITY FUNDRAISING PROJECT

BY BINTANG ASTIANA

21 January 2021 | Thousands of people are now suffering from natural disasters that occur in Malaysia and Indonesia. Their home and belongings are wrecked and some of them even lost their beloved family. The Humanity Fundraising activity is a project initiated by the Exco of Sociopreneur & Community Service of the Indonesian Student Association at Al-Bukhary International University. This project was a collaboration with international organizations under the International Student Association (ISA); African Students Association (AFSA), AIU Thai Students Association (ATSA), AIU Myanmar's Association (AMSA) and Malaysian Students.

"We make a living by what we get. We make a life by what we give."

-Winston S. Churchill-

This aim was to raise funds from students, lecturers, and staff of Al-Bukhary International University for those affected by landslides in Sumedang, earthquakes in Majene and Mamuju, West Sulawesi, eruptions of Mount Merapi and Semeru in Indonesia. Funds were collected from victims of floods in South Kalimantan, Indonesia also people who effected with floods and Kelantan, Terengganu, Pahang, Malaysia.

The donation period started on 21-23 January 2021. All donations collected were channelled to related non profit organizations.

POST PANDEMIC BATTLES AND THE ROLES OF YSBC IN MALAYSIA

BY DR. REAZUL ISLAM

With the auspicious presence of the Honourable Chancellor of Albukhary International University (AIU), Nobel Peace Laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus, a two-day long symposium was held on 17-18 February (Wednesday and Thursday) 2021. AIU-Yunus Social Business Centre (YSBC) hosted this symposium bearing a title as, "Post Pandemic Battles and the Roles of YSBCs in Malaysia". Expectedly, six other Malaysian universities with nested YSBCs actively participated while 77 YSBCs worldwide witnessed the inaugural session. Yunus Centre Bangladesh extended its widened support and committed to continuous participation. The objective of this symposium was to define the roles of Malaysian YSBCs in tackling the post-pandemic phenomena. Thus, this symposium will academically contribute to rejuvenating the COVID-19 stricken socio-economic condition of Malaysia.

Respected Vice-Chancellor & President, Professor Dato' Dr. Abdul Aziz bin Tajuddin was chief-patron and Deputy Vice-Chancellor Professor Ir. Dr. Rizalafande Che Ismail the Chair of this event. Dr. Reazul Islam moderated the sessions and the symposium was held as an online event.

As we are aware, HR is a great field for driven, organised individuals who are interested in helping businesses reach their goals and employees reach their potential. As the business world becomes more and more focused on developing human capital, HR Managers role become essential in today's competitive world. So, the purpose of the talk was to share knowledge to the students about types of personality most likely to succeed as an HR Manager in Enterprises. This topic is essential for individuals who are thinking about entering the world of human resource management where they need to gain a basic understanding of several personality traits that may help an individual become an effective human resource manager.

As we aware, employers are seeking to recruit graduates with broad range of experience and skills that have been developed through their academic study, work experience and extra-curricular activities. So, it is essential for the students to understand about crucial skills, personal qualities and values that enable them to thrive in any workplace. The purpose of the talk is to share knowledge to the students about skills and behaviors that meet employer expectations and lead to self-reliance through long term employment in an organization. The talk session was quite interactive with critical thinking based questions which made the students to be involved attentively. At the end of the talk session, students have taken initiative to ask questions to the speaker regarding further clarification on the employability skills which highlighted the curiosity of students towards the topic.

Next, purpose of mock interview session is to prepare students for their internship and provide platform for these final year students to understand about the real workplace interview environment which needed to succeed in the current labour market. The interview session has been conducted through online in order to expose students towards online interviewing environment during this pandemic. There were total of 5 rooms created via Google Meet and each room was controlled by one external interviewer and one internal interviewer. All the students participated well in the interview session which made the whole session to be conducted in peaceful manner.

At the end of interview session, each interviewers provided valuable feedback to students in order to make improvements for future interviews.
